14 DAYS OF REMEMBERING GOD'S PROMISES

Easter at

ETHOS

Introduction

Trusting God's promises is not always easy. In fact, we oftentimes find ourselves questioning His promises and what He says in His word. When we look around us, and even in our own lives, we see a broken world, broken hearts, broken bodies, broken minds, and broken spirits. When that is all that is in front of us or all we allow ourselves to fix our attention on, then forgetting what He promised seems almost natural or inevitable.

The promises of God are constant; they are forever and they will never change. They are written in His Word and meant to be ingrained in our hearts, each and every promise of God exemplified to us by Jesus. As we journey together for the next fourteen days, our prayer for you is that you begin to recall all that God has promised you and that you are able to walk in what He has promised. And even more so where you feel broken, we pray you find restoration in remembering His promises.

How to use this devotional

Be intentional

Set aside a scheduled 10-15 minutes to read this devotional and meditate on the corresponding scriptures. Create a distraction-free environment with screens and alerts off. Take a moment to quiet your thoughts, relax, and feel peaceful.

Pray before you read

Ask God to reveal His truths as you read. Pray for consistency and clarity.

Study with a friend

Study with someone that will hold you accountable for your daily reading. Proverbs 27:17 says, "As iron sharpens iron, so one person sharpens another."

Share what you are learning

Don't just read it. Share how God's word is speaking to you.

Check it off

Use the table of contents (right) to keep track of your progress. Stick with it for 14 days leading up to Easter.

- DAY 1 ..... grace
- DAY 2 ..... peace
- DAY 3 ..... goodness

the promise of

grace

And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us, and we have seen his glory, glory as of the only Son from the Father, full of grace and truth.

JOHN 1:14 (ESV)

What does grace teach me about God?
What does grace teach me about myself?
How would my life change if I applied what I know about grace?

Think about it

Grace: the undeserved favor of God. It may be safe to say that the one thing in this world that we did not deserve at all was the gift of Jesus. Yet God saw fit to show us His greatest form of grace in the birth of His Son. The beauty of grace, or better yet, a relationship with Jesus, is that we do not have to do one single thing to earn it. There tends to be a mentality that we have to do more and be more in order to earn God's grace, or that we could do something that would cause us not to experience God's grace. All of that could not be further from the truth. God wants to pour out His blessings on us, His most significant being Grace, better known as Jesus. Jesus is God's grace personified. God had intentionality in this gift. You see, Jesus embodies all that God wants for us, wants us to have, wants us to be, and wants us to do. He gave us a living, breathing example to model our very own lives after. And all we are simply called to do is spend time with Jesus. When we do, we are spending time in the beautiful promise of grace ... God's favor.

Pray about it God, thank you for your grace! I want to live a life where I experience your grace daily. Thank you for giving me that option through your son, Jesus. Help me pursue a life modeled after who He is and a life that continually strives to be in community with Him. When I do, I will experience your grace in abundant and new ways. In Jesus' name, Amen.

Apply it As you go throughout your day, be intentional to seek out how you are experiencing God's grace. In those moments, pause to thank God for His grace showing up where you didn't deserve it.

the promise of

peace

You keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on you, because he trusts in you.

ISAIAH 26:3 (ESV)

What does peace teach me about God?
What does peace teach me about myself?
How would my life change if I applied what I know about peace?

Think about it

Whether it be our world around us or our very own personal lives that may seem to be spinning wildly out of control, we all at one time or another have lived in a place of chaos. Maybe you are living in that place right now, where grabbing hold of whatever is closest seems to be the only reasonable solution for survival. But what, or better yet, who are we keeping close and grabbing on to? The reality is that no life is perfect; chaos is to be expected. But amid all that imperfection, there is the promise of perfection. God's perfect peace. Perfect peace that begins and ends with Him. Perfect peace that can only be found in Him through Jesus. C.S. Lewis said, "God cannot give us a happiness and peace apart from Himself, because it is not there. There is no such thing." Simply put, God IS perfect peace. To live in the promise of perfect peace is a head and a heart choice – to keep our minds fixed on Him (head), and to trust in Him (heart). And when we make that daily choice, to live in the promise of perfect peace, Philippians 4:7 says that His peace will then guard our hearts and our minds as we live in Jesus.

Pray about it

God, thank you for your promise of peace. When I am in the midst of chaos, open my eyes to see the peace that comes from holding on to you and not the situations around me. Help me make the daily choice of keeping my head and heart fixed on you, so I continually live in your peace. In Jesus' name, Amen.

Apply it

Today, even if things are going well and there is no worry, find new ways to tap into God's perfect peace. And when you get to that place of peace, thank God for guarding your heart and mind, so it stays fixed on Him.

PSALM 34:8 (ESV)

What does goodness teach me about God?
What does goodness teach me about myself?
How would my life change if I applied
what I know about goodness?

goodness

Think about it

We have all heard those just-missed-doom stories. You know, the one where someone chose a different route to work and missed being part of a huge pile up? Or the one where someone goes in for a routine checkup and an illness is discovered so it is caught early. The reply to those stories tends to be, "Wow! God is so good!" However, the truth about God's goodness is that it is not dependent on an outcome, a situation, an emotion, or a story. God is good because that is who He is; it is not just what He does. And who He is never changes. His goodness is not seasonal. He is always good. He wants to bless us, prosper us, heal us, and protect us. The goodness of God is on full display when we realize who He gave us - Jesus. By giving us Jesus, we are given a way for God to show us His goodness, day in and day out. God is good because in the midst of the storm, He comes closer to us than the storm ever could. Think about it. In the book of Matthew, during the storm, Jesus was in the boat with the disciples. It doesn't get much closer than that! Letting God into those moments shifts us from just knowing His goodness to instead experiencing His goodness. The beauty in experiencing God's goodness is that He has made it pretty easy. We do not have to do anything because, "Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life." (Psalm 23:6)

Pray about it God, thank you for your goodness. Thank you that you have positioned your Son, Jesus, to be closer to me in storms and situations. May I continually lean into experiencing your goodness rather than just knowing. I pray that I never lose sight of your goodness that follows me always. In Jesus' name, Amen.

Apply it When the work week is tough, when you are experiencing stress, when you feel like you do not know what direction to go, keep God close.

He who did not spare his own Son but gave him up for us all, how will he not also with him graciously give us all things?

ROMANS 8:32 (ESV)

What does provision teach me about God?
What does provision teach me about myself?
How would my life change if I applied what I know about provision?

provision

Think about it

Many of us will find that there will be or have been times in our lives that cause worry or concern for how we will provide for ourselves or loved ones. Maybe it's the loss of a job, illness, or lack of skills to further us in life. Maybe it's worries about whether we have enough in us spiritually, emotionally, or mentally to be our best selves. Here's a little secret for you: God's provision is always available to us, ready to fill the spaces where we feel that we lack. Not just in the form of meeting our needs in the natural, but even more so in the gift of Jesus. The thing about God's provision is it is on His terms for how and when. But the best part is, He is not limited in those ways! It is on us to trust that His provision will be there at the exact moment we need it and in the way He sees fit. Think about the Israelites in the wilderness (Exodus 16); they were hungry, anxious, and questioning why they left Egypt. God shows up in His perfect timing by providing food from Heaven. Literally dropping food from the sky. Yet the Israelites still complained and longed for what they used to have. Essentially, they wanted God's provision, but they wanted it on their terms. We need to be open and receptive to see God's provision for us through Jesus even when it is different than what we were expecting. At the end of the day, may we remember how much more our Father wants to give good things to those who ask Him. If He can bring provision to thousands in a desert, surely, He can and will provide for you.

Pray about it God, thank you for your provision in my life. For every area that I desire more, I ask that you show up in the ways that you see fit. Help me trust and have faith in your timing and in your ways. Help me let go of what I think is best. I desire your best. In Jesus' name, Amen.

Apply it Today, whatever you are believing for, ask God for His provision in that; but how HE sees fit. Put your faith and trust in His timing and do not grumble or complain if it is outside of what you intended. Here is the kicker: it probably will be.

strength

But he said to me, “My grace is sufficient for you, for my power is made perfect in weakness.” Therefore I will boast all the more gladly of my weaknesses, so that the power of Christ may rest upon me.

2 CORINTHIANS 12:9 (ESV)

What does strength teach me about God?
What does strength teach me about myself?
How would my life change if I applied
what I know about strength?

Think about it

Weakness: the state or condition of lacking strength. For some reason, there is a stigma around weakness. It's seen as an unacceptable state of being, and if you experience weakness, you are less than, not good enough, looked down upon, or seen as lacking an ability to measure up to the standards the world has put in place. There is even a feeling of embarrassment. Because of that, in seasons of weakness, we tend to believe that we can carry all the weight on our own. If we handle it on our own, no one will ever know, we do not have to be vulnerable, and we will get the precise outcome we want exactly when we want it, right? You need to stop lying to yourself that you are strong enough to take on seasons of hardship and weakness on your own. You are not. When you feel like giving up and when situations naturally fail, which they will, that is when we need to remember that we were not created to be the source of our own strength. We will get tired really quickly. We were created to worship God and tap into Him as our source of strength. Let Him strengthen you. Let the power of His son, Jesus, rest on you. Do not be embarrassed by seasons of hardship and weakness. Rather, be vulnerable in them. Those are the moments that God can show off His strength for you. Those are the moments we see His perfection in our lives on full display. And, honestly, what could be better?

Pray about it God, thank you for your strength. Thank you that even at my lowest I can tap into and rely on you to bring me through. Help me remember that I am not my own source of strength, but you are. Thank you for always bringing me through. In Jesus' Name, Amen.

Apply it Today, if you are experiencing a moment of weakness or frustration, be vulnerable in that moment. Talk to God about how you're feeling and share it with a friend. You will begin tapping into God's perfect strength. Let Him use that moment to remind you that He is your source of strength.

the promise of

health

Heal me, O LORD,
and I shall be healed;
save me, and I shall be saved, for you are my praise.

JEREMIAH 17:14 (ESV)

What does health teach me about God?
What does health teach me about myself?
How would my life change if I applied
what I know about health?

Think about it

When God created us, He created body, mind, and soul to live in perfect harmony and in perfect peace with His promise of health and healing. In His creation and plan for us, there was no intention for us to experience sickness, pain, disease, fear, depression, anxiety. We know God's plan is for healing and restoration, because we see that reflected in the ministry and life of Jesus. Sometimes Jesus heals us right away, and sometimes He doesn't. But Jesus is always working to bring about His kingdom, where "there will be no more death or mourning or crying or pain" (Revelation 21:4). Our bodies, our minds, and our hearts may take time to align to God's truth. This does not mean that truth is any less true. It means we get to practice our faith and hold on to the truth of His promises. May we be people who look again and again to see our God at work, constantly taking care of us in this life and forevermore.

Pray about it

God, I believe that you have healed my body, mind, and soul. I ask for your healing in every part of my being. When I feel pain, anxiety, fear, or anything that is not from you, help me to hold on to the truth that is the promise of my healing in you. In Jesus' Name, Amen.

Apply it

Today, if you need healing in your body or mind, take time to meditate on His promises. Thank God for the things in your life that He has healed in the past. Keep your faith active by memorizing scriptures of healing and reminding yourself of God's faithfulness.

wisdom

If any of you lacks wisdom, let him ask God, who gives generously to all without reproach, and it will be given him.

JAMES 1:5 (ESV)

What does wisdom teach me about God?
 What does wisdom teach me about myself?
 How would my life change if I applied
 what I know about wisdom?

Think about it

Wisdom tells us that if we obey God's word, we can avoid the hard and frustrating consequences. Are you going through a rough time right now? You're not alone! Everybody is struggling with something. The Bible tells us exactly what we should do when we don't know what to do; ask for wisdom. God isn't holding back wisdom. He gives wisdom to anybody who asks for it. Have you asked him for wisdom on what to do about your job, your future, your kids, your health, or whatever you're struggling with? God gives wisdom to anybody who asks for it. King Solomon, one of the richest and most successful men who ever lived, had everything he needed and everything anyone could possibly want in life, but he still asked God for wisdom. He knew that riches and power and comfort meant nothing if he couldn't make wise decisions. He wanted to honor God, who gave him everything, and so he asked for wisdom to discern what to do with what he had, and how to do it. Wisdom helps you learn from any trouble you're experiencing. It helps you to know what to do and how to move forward in a way that pleases God. He uses every challenge to develop you, not defeat you.

Pray about it God, help me to not forget or lose sight of your word and your wisdom. Instill in me a new passion for seeking after wisdom in my life. May I always remember that what seeking wisdom requires of me pales in comparison to what I will gain. In Jesus' Name, Amen.

Apply it Put effort to accessing God's wisdom. Pick up your Bible, dive into the Word of God. When the opportunity for a decision in your life comes up, big or small, seek God.

What does prayer teach me about myself?
How would my life change if I applied what I know about prayer?

answered prayers

Think about it

Let's talk about sunblock. You are thinking, "Sunblock? Really?" Yes. It's the dead of summer and you are getting ready for the best pool day of the year. But before you go out, you put sunblock on...first. If you wait till you are out in the hot sun to put it on, it's lost its full potential of helping you. You let it saturate your skin ahead of time, so it can do its job of protecting you when you are out in the harsh elements. Are we using prayer like sunblock as a first response? The purpose of prayer is to get to know God and to nourish our relationship with Him in us. And feeling equipped and secure to ask for things ahead of time, to be vulnerable about the harsh elements in our lives before they affect us negatively. God wants to answer our prayers. When we pray in faith and our prayers are aligned with His truth, He will do it. Look at the life Jesus, the Son of God. He prayed. And he prayed regularly; it was natural – a first response. We see in Luke that, "...Jesus often withdrew to the wilderness for prayer." We cannot wait till we are at our wit's end to start praying. We cannot be self-sufficient and think we do not need to ask God for things. God wants to answer our prayers, he wants to bless us, he wants to give us what we need; but we must ask and make it a habit to ask in prayer.

Pray about it God, I ask that I learn to pray and ask you for things as a first choice and not as a last resort. Help me to see and understand the value in coming to you first. You want to answer my prayers and you want to bless me. I pray for the continued desire to pray regularly as you answer me regularly. In Jesus' Name, Amen.

Apply it Today, begin a habit of prayer. Even the simplest and shortest of prayers, when prayed in faith, produce results far bigger than we can imagine. Carry that habit into the coming days and allow God to start working in your life before situations arise.

May the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, so that by the power of the Holy Spirit you may abound in hope.

ROMANS 15:13 (ESV)

What does hope teach me about God?
What does hope teach me about myself?
How would my life change if I applied what I know about hope?

hope

Think about it

Many people make promises they cannot keep. People say they will do something for you or with you, and it falls through and doesn't happen. When someone makes you a promise, you hold on to hope that they – the promise maker – will keep their word. Surely, we have all faced that let down at some time in our lives. But that is not the case with God. God is both a promise maker and a promise keeper. God has given us hope through Jesus. Hope becomes a confident expectation and not just wishful thinking that we will get our promises, see brighter days, or receive the direction we need. There are many reasons to feel hopeless today, whether situations in our world, feeling discouraged in your life, challenges and situations that seem to have no solution; hopelessness seems to make sense. But the Bible tells us that hope endures and furthermore not to just hope, but rather to, "Rejoice in hope..." (Romans 12:12). The world and/or people may be able to provide short term relief and answers for what we are searching for, but we will end up hopeless when those things inevitably fail us. We can have hope – confident expectation – in God through Jesus because He is our promise keeper... the source of our hope. This means we can be filled with joy and peace no matter the situation.

Pray about it God, I thank you that I can hope in you in every season and situation. Because you are a promise maker and a promise keeper, I know that my hope in you means I can trust you and rejoice in you. Help me to look to you for the hope that I need in my life. In Jesus' Name, Amen.

Apply it Today, if you encounter challenges and situations. Do not place hope in the world, in a person, or in a system. Rather rejoice in the hope that is promised to us by God through Jesus. And watch how your perspective changes.

protection

Because you have made the LORD your dwelling place – the Most High, who is my refuge – no evil shall be allowed to befall you, no plague come near your tent. For he will command his angels concerning you to guard you in all your ways.

PSALM 91:9-11 (ESV)

What does protection teach me about God?
What does protection teach me about myself?
How would my life change if I applied what I know about protection?

Think about it

Living in an increasingly insecure world has clear and real challenges. There are physical dangers, sickness, economic strains, and racial tensions; to name a few. Living in the midst of that can so easily crush our peace and increase fears, anxieties, and stress if we allow it. Because of our relationship with God, we have the benefit of being able to look to Him to surround us with protection. We are not meant to live in a place of fear, that was never and will never be God's intention for us. The Bible tells us over and over again to simply "fear not." Every promise of God's protection is for us to enjoy – to live life with confidence, not paralyzed by fears and uncertainties, both seen and unseen. Even when things don't go our way, we are able to trust that God never wastes our pain. When we are continually aware of God's presence, we position ourselves with God and it makes falling under his promise of protection all the easier. "He who dwells in the shelter of the Most High will abide in the shadow of the Almighty." (Psalm 91:1) To be positioned with God truly brings confidence in His promise of protection to us.

Pray about it

God, thank you that I can rest assured in your promise of protection over my life. You promised me that no evil will come near me, so I continue to pray for your peace in an increasingly insecure world. Thank you for constantly watching over me – my mind, and my spirit. In Jesus' Name, Amen.

Apply it

Today, when you start your day or when you step foot out the door, pause and be intentional to thank God for His protection. Seek out ways you can position yourself with Him to dwell in his protection for you.

What does knowing God is with me teach me about God?
What does knowing God is with me teach me about myself?
How would my life change if I applied

Think about it

Do you want the answer to the question in our verse for today? Nowhere. That is the simple answer. God is everywhere; there is not a place we can go in our lifetime that God will not be or has not already been. Just pause and think about that for a moment. God is with us in every situation, good or bad; that is the very essence of our faith. God delivered in a huge way on this promise when He gave us Jesus, "...and they shall call his name Immanuel (which means, God with us)." The thing is, God has always been with us. It just took on a beautiful new meaning when He gave us Jesus to be with us in human form. Jesus came to stay, to dwell, to be with us...forever. What that means for us is no matter the challenge, we are not alone. We cannot be apart from Him. Whatever we need – strength, deliverance, faith, etc. – He has. In this very moment He is beside you. And friend, the more you acknowledge His presence, the more of it you will experience.

Pray about it God, thank you for your promised presence. I can move in faith and throughout each day in confidence knowing you are with me. I pray that my eyes, ears, and heart stay open and sensitive to your presence with me always. In Jesus' Name, Amen.

Apply it Today, be intentional to acknowledge His presence throughout your day. When you are in a moment of need, let your first response be to ask God and not try to solve it on your own. The more you acknowledge His presence, the easier it will be to recognize.

No, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him who loved us. For I am sure that neither death nor life, nor angels nor rulers, nor things present nor things to come, nor powers, nor height nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord.

ROMANS 8:37-39 (ESV)

What does love teach me about God?

love

Think about it

There is no force more powerful than the love God has for us. His love can move mountains, heal bones, mend hearts, change lives, set lives free, and save those very lives. How do we even begin to comprehend this level of love? A love that saw fit to give this world His only Son to die for us. Everything God made and everything he does flows from a place of love for us. Love exists because it is part of God's character; it is not just what He does but it is who He is. In 1 Corinthians 13, we see all that love is patient, kind, humble, and so much more. That is God. He is all of those things to us. However, being on the receiving end of that love does not mean we will have a trouble-free life. But it does mean that His love is constant even through the difficulties. Please understand that God is not indifferent about what happens to us; that is not His nature. So even in trying times, may we find comfort in submitting to a God who is love, because we can bear those circumstances with much more grace knowing He wants the best for us. What God did for us and is still doing for us, He did in love. All he wants is for us to receive it.

Pray about it

God, I ask that I continually understand and remember your love for me. Thank you for loving me in every way, even when I have done nothing to deserve that love. Help me to lean into your love for me and submit all my cares to you as you only want what is best for me. In Jesus' Name, Amen.

mercy

Think about it

Many of us have heard the saying, "Today is a good day for a good day." We get to have good days because each and every day we get to experience God's mercy toward us. Each day we have a decision to make: to either embrace God's mercy and have a good day, or to think on yesterday's mistakes and struggles and have a bad day. Mercy is a defining quality of God, that without it we would not be here. It is not only an act of compassion from God but, even more than that, it is God not giving us what we truly deserve.

That is because in His mercy toward us, that is infinite and inexhaustible, God sent us Jesus to take the judgement that was meant to be our own. Looking at Jesus while He was here on earth, we see real examples of what it means to be merciful. We watched him heal the sick, welcome strangers, and forgive those who persecuted and killed him. It is more than remarkable to know that daily we get to live the lives He has given us, and walk in the plans He has for us, all because of His compassion and mercy for us.

Pray about it God, thank you for your mercy. Thank you for giving me something for which I am truly undeserving. Help me to each day grab hold of your new mercies for me. And to show that same mercy toward those I encounter. In Jesus' Name, Amen.

Apply it Today, make the choice to start your day refreshed and anew, to have a good day and not think on yesterday's missteps. As you grab hold of mercy each day, show that same mercy to people you encounter during the day.

ROMANS 10: 9-10 (ESV)

What does salvation teach me about God?
What does salvation teach me about myself?
How would my life change if I applied what I know about salvation?

salvation

Think about it

Here is the honest truth. All God wants is a deep relationship with us. That's it. And He has made that relationship possible by giving us the promise of Salvation. Salvation is not based on anything that we do, rather it is based on the sacrifice that Jesus made on the cross for us. When trying to grasp an understanding of what salvation is and truly means, because of our innate human nature, we tend to mis-interpret it. We can fall victim to believing that salvation is something we can earn, or we misunderstand the true cost of salvation. When Jesus died on the cross, sin's power was broken from our lives. And the promise of salvation means that we do not have to live how we used to. God knew what broken people would be without Jesus, and because He so loved us (John 3:16), God gave us Jesus; our promise of salvation. Are you ready for the absolute best part? Jesus knew the joy we would have in belonging to Him, so He endured death...for us. Jesus' gift of salvation was, is, and will always be genuine and sincere. And when we respond in the same way, we have the joy of not only being saved but we become changed and made new from the inside out.

Pray about it God, thank you for your promise of salvation. For without it, I would be broken and lost. Help me to daily remember the ultimate gift you have given me, and I pray that I never lose sight of it or take it for granted. Thank you that I do not have to live that way I used to. In Jesus' Name, Amen.

Apply it If today you have yet to know the gift and promise of Salvation, connect with us so we can help you in this journey! And if you have the privilege of already knowing and experiencing salvation, take a moment of pause to simply tell God, thank you, for this gift that is greater than anything we could fully understand.

Consider it
